Homework 1 -

       I am honestly new to computer coding and am hoping this class will help me not feel like a "beginner user". I prefer the GUI method of storage, because I am already familiar with it from working with computers and phones throughout the years. CLI is a bit more confusing for me, and seems unnecessarily complicated when I can just drag and drop files from my desktop applications. I can see how CLI's are useful in search engines and for looking through large libraries/lists.
